All Mixed Up

This year the Arrow Staff chose "All Mixed Up" as the theme to reflect the various changes that occurred on the Lycoming campus, as well as on a personal level for each student. During the past year at Lycoming, the students welcomed quite a few fresh faces as they waved goodbye to old friends.

With the incoming freshman also came the entrance of our Provost and Dean of the College, Dr. Tom Griffiths, Reverend Jeff LeCrone, campus minister, Leslie Kelly, Student Life Coordinator, as well as the next Vice President and Treasurer, Stephen Storck. Christmas time brought Jerry Rashid to the College Relations team as the new director, as well as Michael Clark who took up, former football coach, Frank Girardi's torch. During the spring thaw, the community saw many new faces such as Lynn Robinson (Director of Accounting), Loni Kline (Director of Major Gifts), Michael Hudak (Director of Safety and Security), Sara Hillis (Assistant Director of Student Programs and Leadership Development), and Lisa Mendler (Residential Life Housing Coordinator).

As each year rolls by the students of Lycoming College are inspired to excel academically and personally as they make their way towards the goal of graduation and finding themselves. This leads many students to sometimes feel "All Mixed Up" on their way to success. The beauty of Lycoming is every student has the opportunity to sort their self out along the way.

the best way to stir up your week!

There is only room for one Sheriff on this quad, and that is Chef Chuck Persun!

Kids from the community and faculty families enjoy a good old duck choosing for a prize.

Mix in some FUN at the campus carnival!

Every year the returning students coordinate with Student Programs to welcome the incoming freshman and treat the local residents of Williamsport to an afternoon of entertainment. In the way of traditional carnivals, there was balloon popping, sandart, a kissing booth and a fortune teller. Sodexho treated everyone to a TexMex style cookout complete with sheriff badges and bandit bandanas.

2007:

From Lyco with Love

Students got in the Bond mood as they celebrated the incoming year of '07. The week was jammed with activities such as volleyball, dodgeball, an obstacle course, traditional Jello wrestling, and of course the not-to-be-missed Mr. and Ms. Lyco drag contest. At the end of the contest, the Homecoming Prince and Princess were announced. This year the recipients were Sean Berrier and Francesca Piscitelli. During the Halftime ceremonies, last year's King, Stamatis Zeris, and Queen, Amy Leso, stopped by to crown the 2007 King and Queen, Joshua Good and Tonya DeMarco.

College's Fall Formal
hosted by the Campus Activities Board was held at the Genetti. The theme of the formal was Monopoly. Around 160 students showed up for the formal. Small prizes were given out, such as a special boardgame called "Collegopoly".

The Spring Formal
was held at the Acaica Club, and was co-hosted by Penn College of Technology. Mardi Gras was the theme for this event. Numerous prizes were given out, with the grand prize being one free

Spring semester gave a thrill to audiences of the Dance show with a zany eighties theme. The dancers all poufed and crimped their hair, packed their sparkles, tie-dyes, and neons for this high energy show. The teachers coordinated an excellent show with Ian Detamore and Lori Newton heading Country, Irish was conceived by Stephanie Knaus, Chelsea Holbert, and Jenn Janovsky, Dance Team brought by Jade Dejoie and Kayla Kichline, Jazz by Jordan Ardo and Sarah Fleck, Tap by Brooke Pollio, Latin by Amilcar Guzman and Andrea Santiago, Ballet coordinated by Ketti Frings's adaptation of Thomas Wolfe's Look Homeward, Angel is a slightly biographical coming of age story. The main character, Eugene Gran (Thomas Musser) is based upon Wolfe's own youthful restlessness. Ben Gant (Barry Schaub) dreams of going off to fight in the war, but his health doesn't permit him to realize his dream. So instead he turns to his younger brother and encourages him to experience the world. However, Eugene's strong willed mother, Eliza Gant (N. J. Stanley) runs the Dixieland Boarding House like she runs her family, with an iron fist, and is reluctant to let Eugene out on his own. She has her own dreams for him, earning enough money to send him to college. W. O. Gant (guest artist Peter Aylward) has settled into a life of rowdy drunkenness but still dreams for his sons to make their mark in the world. This poignant tale tells of the tumultuous family and how they all grow with Eugene on his journey to freedom.

Eugene (Musser) falls in love with a boarder at Dixieland, Miss Laura James (Hobbs) despite their age difference.

Ben (Schaub) finds friendship and mild flirty fun with long standing boarder Fat-Shuey (Shuey) who listens to his dreams.

Between her father's drunken bouts and her mother's demands Helen (Newman) tries her hardest to keep the family together.

za (Stanley) believes to her core that other knows best and so manipulates her family to try to do right by them.

Eugene (Musser) has the itch to leave his small hometown and experience the world for all it is worth.

Stage management can be a tough position to hold, however every show needs a good team of stage managers working restlessly behind the scenes to keep everything running smoothly. Lycoming College prepares it's students well for theater life by giving students the opportunities to tackle these positions. Ashley, Kirstin and Katie have all taken up the torch at one time or another for the Theater Department and have enjoyed the job. They all agree that the best job done by a stage manager is one where the audience is unaware that someone is even doing the job.

Below: Versati (Ferguson) contemplates how his life was suddenly altered by the awareness of Louise's (Newman) existence, while she tries to get him to notice her ardor on the chaise.

Theo (Valois) is a self important, but patriotic German. He worries how his wife's actions will affect his job in the political world.

Deuter (Schoeneberger) confesses that she believes herself to be too old for love, which is why she lives vicariously through Louise's attention.

Above: The Maske's have been married for only a few years and have already settled into the old couple routine. Theo (Valois) does not feel they are ready to expand the family, as Louise (Newman) does.

Right: Not understanding what the true purpose of regimented renter, Herr Klingehoff's (Marshall Winters) questions are, Louise (Newman) decides to make a bold statement.

With Melissa Newman, McGair Valois, Rebecca Schoeneberger, Barry Schaub, Stephen Ferguson, Marshall Winters, and John Forrester.

This laugh out loud version of Sternheim's The Underpants has been adapted by Steve Martin to include his well known wicked wit and play on the language. The story centers on a married German couple Louise (Melissa Newman) and Theo Maske (McGair Valois) and the scandal that follows a mishap of fallen underpants. Theo believes that the embarrassment of lost underwear will lead to the couple's ruin, but to his ignorant surprise, the business of their room rent skyrockets as three besotted men come knocking, requiring about a place to stay. Unbeknownst to Theo, however, they all have a not-so-secret agenda to seduce his wife. Louise, repressed in her marriage and encouraged by her best friend and upstairs neighbor Gertrude Deuter (Rebecca Schoeneberger), rides her new fame along the rollercoaster path of crazy suitors with even crasser skills of seduction.

Frank Versati (Ferguson) is an elegant gentleman who waxes romantic poetry to Louise in attempts to seduce her.

Benjamin Cohen (Schaub) is a Jewish hypochondriac who feels more outgoing with Louise in his life.

Gertrude Deuter (Schoeneberger) helps to encourage Louise by arranging secret trysts with the suitors, but ends up in a surprising tyst of her own

Lee Blessing's play takes place in Independence, Iowa where a mother and her three daughters each struggle to discover what independence means to them. The play centers around Evelyn (Geraldine Mitchell), the emotionally unstable mother of three. Two of her daughters, Jo (Elizabeth Snow) and Sherry (Melody Weister), are still living at home. Kess (Melanie Newman) moved away ten years ago at the start of the play. Kess is a lesbian, which puts the family at unease, Sherry is a restless teenager who experiments with meaningless sex until she is able to escape the house, and Jo is a hopeless romantic dealing with a pregnancy on her own. The play opens with Kess coming home to support her sister through the pregnancy as well as attempt to mend the rifts in the family from when she first left. Lee Blessing delves into the intricacies of family relations, suggesting that no matter how bad things get between this family, there is a deep love within each of them that prevents them from ultimately giving up on each other.

Jo (Snow) feels the most responsible for her mother after Kess (Newman) left. However, she fears more than anything becoming just like her mother.

Sherry (Weister) dreams of leaving her broken small-town home and family to make her mark as an artist.

Kess (Newman) regrets leaving her sisters with their mother, but knows it was right because she found sanity and love in a world not controlled by Evelyn.

elyn (Mitchell) is prone to emotional bursts when she feels the status quo her family life is threatened.

Sherry (Weister) resents Kess (Newman) for leaving until Kess helps Sherry get through a shock of reality.

Guest Artist Peter Aylward shone as the demanding Mr. Jones. Working with talent of his caliber was an honor for every person in the department.

Helen asks for help, but is continually turned away by society and told to do her duty as a wife and mother.

Katie Rancik had to invoke nearly every emotion in order to truly eminate the depth of Helen's descent from marriage to motherhood to muder.

The ensemble cast, most working multiple roles, truly made this show the breathtaking visual display that it was. Cast: Katie Rancik (Helen), Peter Aylward, (George H. Jones), Stephani Crecelius (Mother), Barry Schaub (Young Lover), Arielle Blanton, Kaitlyn Hobbs, John Forrester, Melody Weister Melissa Newman, Vincent Sisley, Tyler Winthrop, Sarah Runtas, and Matthew Shiplet.

Under the close tutelage of director N. J. Stanley, Sophie Treadwell's Machinal was an amazing forerunner in the world of Expressionism. From the opening scene, the audience was slammed into this world of pressure and propriety. The play looks into the life of a young woman, Helen (Katie Rancik), who is trapped by society, her domineering mother, and eventually her husband and unwanted child. She longs for love, freedom, and pas-

...n. She finds this through a young lover, who has been on adventures throughout Mexico. Most recently he was forced to kill two men in Mexico to gain his freedom, which gives Helen the inspiration to kill for her own freedom. The play is loosely based upon the 1927 Snyder murder trial, during which Ruth Snyder became the first woman to be executed in the

Helen (Rancik) faces trial for the murder of her husband and former boss, though she tries to plead not guilty, the system once again breaks her to a confession.

Helen's husband (guest artist Peter Ay-lward) revolts her during their honeymoon, she wonders if she will ever get used that feeling.

She meets her young lover (Barry Schaub) at a bar, where he fascinates her by being unlike the rest of her world, passionate, attentive, and relaxed.

Alpha Xi Delta

This past year marked the 3rd anniversary since Alpha Xi Delta was chartered as a sorority at Lycoming College's campus. In the Fall, the Sisters held their 3rd Annual Monster Mash Baseball Bash at the Little League Museum. This night allowed kids throughout the community to come for games, treats, and a haunted house to celebrate Halloween. The money raised was donated to First Book, and organization that provides new books for underprivileged children. Their other major philanthropy event occurred in the spring, with the 3rd annual Kickball Tournament.

Ten organizations on campus participated in the event and raised $200 to be donated to the National Center of Missing and Exploited Children. Aside from community service, the sisters enjoy having sisterhood events such as t-shirt letter making, having retreats at the Little League Museum, and bonding at their annual Pink Rose Formal held at DiSalvo's.

The sisters of Beta Phi Gamma were working hard to improve their chapter this year. They had announced Make A Wish Foundation as their philanthropy. To help the cause, sisters sold stars and hosted a cookout to raise money. It was a great success that hopes to be topped next year.

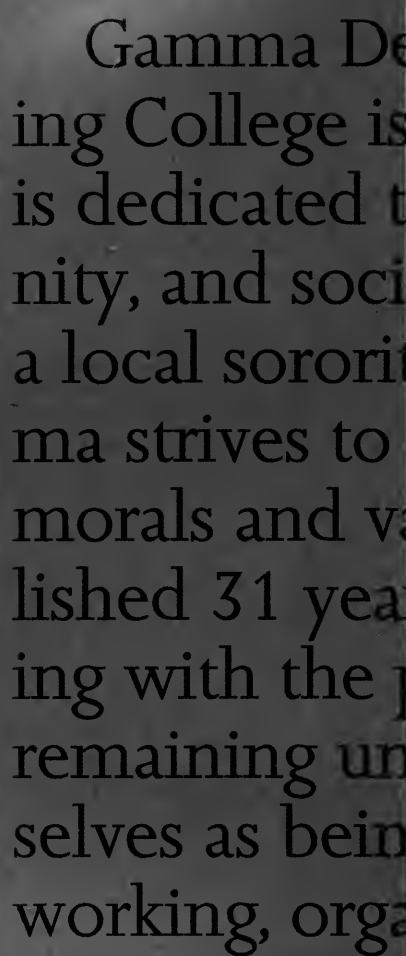

Beta Phi Gamma has also grown to include eight new sisters. These sisters include Morgan Guest, Erin Healy, Sabrina Eddington, Katie Walker, Nicole Pish, Nora Dickert, Lauren Murray, and Amanda Thomas. They are a wonderful addition to the organization.

Lambda Chi Alpha was involved in many different community service projects in 2008. Apha Xi Delta Kickball was held on March 9; A.A.H. was held on March 9; The Career Fair was held on March 12; Greek Week lasted from April 3-11; The Autism Walk was held on April 4; Choir is on-going throughout the semester as well as other services that were not specified. All-in-all the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha work hard together to make the community better. For 2008 the brothers served the total of 1430.5 hours all together.

Members of Lambda Chi meet in their hallway before going to do work for the community.

PHI KAPPA PSI

This year, the brothers of Phi Kappa Psi have been involved in many different activities around campus involving community service and fundraising. This February, the brothers, along with WRLC, the Pre-Health Society, and The Black History Month Committee sponsored a Battle of the Bands, and had the money raised from ticket sales going to The Center and CAPP. The event was held in the Recreation Center this year and featured bands such as Rocky3, Flood, and Haley. The event attracted a nice audience and raised more than $575 for the charities. They also hosted a haunted house along with TKE on Pine Street in Williamsport from October 26-30 in order to raise money for the Ronald Reagan Alzheimer's Foundation. During this year's Relay for Life, the brothers opened up a grill station to sell cheeseburgers and hot dogs to everyone, with the proceeds from the food sales going to the American Cancer Society. Other community service projects the brothers participated in included selling daffodils for the American Cancer Society, setting up and tearing down for Good Charlotte at this year's campus concert in April, and participating in the first ever Williamsport Autism Conference and Walk held from April 3-5 at the Community Arts Center to benefit children with Autism. They recently initiated an 8 man pledge class, and are looking forward to more successful years and more new and incoming brothers here at Lycoming.

Honors Convocation

A ceremony honoring those who excel at
Lycoming College

LYCOMING...

Many of us received this name printed on a brochure in high school and thought, "Where is this place?"

We ventured out of our comfort zone to visit the campus and eventually made the choice to participate in what would be the four most incredible years of our lives.

We arrived at Lycoming and were bombarded with the Lyco SOS Crew shirts who helped us move into our new homes (little did we know that we were on our own for the next three years of move-in day...). Apprehensive about who our new roommates could be, we quickly tried to figure out how to compress ALL of our possessions from home into a room shared by two people.

Then the traditions of Lycoming started to become a part of our experience. FYRST's Casino Night, Jello Wrestling at Homecoming, Thanksgiving Dinner, and of course the weekend trips to Two Boys at two a.m. We realized that this place really was becoming our new home.

The faculty kept the spirit of tradition and homeliness alive with study sessions and snacks at night. Yes, the night (as in nine p.m.) before the exam, St. Patty's fun runs with Green Waffles at Dr. Gabe's, department picnics, and volleyball/baseball challenges amongst departments all become a part of an experience that we fell in love with.

Many of us studied abroad; we visited Roatan, Cambodia, Prague with our professors. We were all witnesses to the opening of Mary Lindsey Welch Honors Hall, we experienced the new Recreation Center, and observed the opening of the Commons, or first residence hall in forty years.

In the end, current students, enjoy the rest of your time at Lycoming. My fellow graduates, we have begun to go our separate ways, venturing out into the "Real World", which is seemingly the farthest thing from real in comparison to the MTV version. The late night talks, Weiner Wednesday, Nugget Day, and Saturday Mac-n-Cheese at brunch will all be a tender memory and we will all realize our parents were right when they told us these would be the greatest times of our lives.

With that, as the Sykes Gates welcomed us freshman year, and the Metzler Gates bid the seniors farewell, good luck to the Class 2008 and best wishes to Lycoming.

This message was funded by the Student Senate of Lycoming College and hosted on OrgSync...just kidding.

Francavilla
2008 Chieftain

Lycoming College treats the seniors to a night of celebrations in anticipation of the impending graduation. The festivities were hosted at DiSalvo's Restuarant

CELEBRATES!

You Know You're From Lyco When....

You walk into the liquor store and see three of your professors

Return after three years of alumni status and still know people

You tell time according to the church bells of St. Boniface and use them as your alarm clock

Your stomach can handle eating just about anything you give it by year two

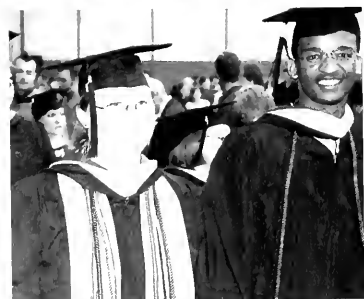

You know what and where lake Lyco is, and go swimming in it when able

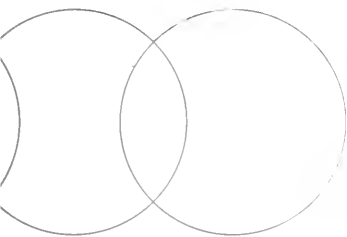

Eighty percent of your caloric intake is bagels and the other twenty percent is beer

JP's and Two boys are on your speed dial for 2 AM emergencies

Baccalaureate

The Lamade Gymnasium once again hosted this austentious occasion for graduates, families, and faculty alike. The service was assisted by the sounds of the concert band, led by Dr. William Ciabattari, and the choir, led by Dr. Fred Thayer. Reverend Jeffrey LeCrone started the service with a call to worship, Sister Catherine Ann Gilvary followed with the invocation. Matthew Miller, Rachel Barnes, and Alfonso Francavilla participated in the service by reading lessons and a Psalm. The main sermon was delivered by the Reverend Dr. Thomas V. Wolfe, Dean of Hendricks Chapel at Syracuse University.

"This lamp is a symbol of the Light of Learning. It represents the spirit of education and the tradition of knowledge passed from one generation to another."

--Arthur Harberberger, Chairman, Board of Trustees--

"I give to you this lamp as a symbol of the Light of Learning. Honor it, protect it, treasure it. Use it to benefit the lives of all people."

--Mehrdad Madresehee, Chair of the Faculty--

"We receive this lamp as a symbol of the Light of Learning. I have grown, matured, and prospered in its glow. May those who follow grow strong in its light."

--Amilcar Guzman, President, Class of 2008--

"Although the winds of time may cause the flame to flicker, may the security of knowledge protect the flame."

--Joseph Falchek, President, Class of 2009--

"Although the way may sometimes seem dark, may the quest for the unknown keep the light aflame."

--Dina Borishkevich, President, Class of 2010--

"Although this lamp often changes hands, may those who bear it never grow weary."

--Jeffrey Rosenheck, President, Class of 2011--

THE ALMA MATER

*We sing to Lycoming with clarion voice of praise,
The thunderbird speaks for the glory of yesterdays
The blue of honor, gold of valor, born of sky and sun.
We blaze a trail of light through our valley
Holding a torch of flame for our Alma Mater,
Illustrious be her name.
With tribal devotion we pledge our consecration.*

*A Chieftain of old, standing sentinel in the sun.
Old Main guards the memory of battles lost and won,
Of our incantation, dedications, praising our warriors bold.
Abidingly true, old friendships and new find worth
In the bonds of Lycoming; long may her sachem
Proclaim her noble birth
With high exultation, we chant to her creation.*

THE COLLEGE MACE

The mace has an ancient history as a symbol of authority. In its current use at many colleges and universities, the mace is carried before the president in academic processions; and represents the authority of the institution.

ACADEMIC APPAREL

Academic gowns, caps and hoods that distinguish academic processions represent an ancient tradition. The origin of distinctive gowns has been traced to the very beginnings of European universities in the 12th century. The mortarboard cap first came to use in 16th century England, and the legend has that it was patterned after the triangular shape of one of Oxford's campuses.

The cut of the academic gown, although not easily distinguishable, identifies the level of degree held by the wearer. The bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves and two pleats on either side. The master's gown has long crescent-shaped sleeve. The doctoral gown is most distinguished by full-length velvet panels on the front and velvet bands on the sleeves. Some doctoral granting institutions have incorporated other specific design elements into their gown designs.

The colors on the hood can usually provide information about a scholar's discipline. The color of the velvet panels on each hood represents the discipline of the wearer and the lining of the hood usually contains the official colors of the school that awarded the degree.

The colors for each academic field include: White for Arts, Letters and Humanities; Scarlet for Theology and Divinity; Drab for Business Administration, Commerce and Accounting; Copper for Economics; Light Blue for Education; Brown for Fine Arts; Lemon for Library Science; Green for Medicine; Silver Gray for Oratory; Dark Blue for Philosophy; Sage Green for Physical Education; Gold-Yellow for Science; Citron for Social Science and Music.

SENIOR PICNIC

After a long rehearsal for the next day's festivities, the soon-to-be graduates were rewarded with a sunny afternoon and a tasty picnic lunch on the lawn in front of the Academic Center. Talks of reminiscence and the adventures to come could be heard throughout the picnic area.

One Hundred Sixtieth Annual Commencement

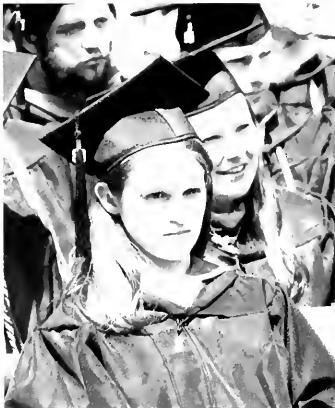

A beautiful afternoon greeted the graduates-to-be as they lined up to take the heavily anticipated walk through the Oliver Sterling Metzler gate. Senior Marshalls Amilcar Guzman, Kirstie McKeever, Kyle Boyles, and Caitlin Oakley ushered their fellow students into the ceremony bearing the class banner.

The 2008 Commencement Address was given by Dr. Sandra Steingraber, a Distinguished Scholar-in-Residence at Ithaca College. Jamie Rowe made the Greeting from the Senior Class and Dr. Griffiths introduced the students earning honors with their degrees. The eager graduates then recieved their diplomas from Dr. Douthat. The entire ceremony was aided by the voices of the choir, under the direction of Dr. Fred Thayer, as well as the sound of the concert band, conducted by Dr. William Ciabattari.

THE CLASS OF 2011

In our first year at Lycoming College, the Class of 2011 worked hard to serve our new community. Each freshman participated in a community service project through the Freshman Experience Program. In addition, as a class, several students participated with the Salvation Army's Angel Tree Project. The class created 7 boxes for Operation Christmas Child, raised 136 dollars for the Relay For Life through various fundraisers, and hosted the Lycoming College Homecoming Volleyball Game. As of March 2008, the Class of 2011 had already registered over 1,595.75 hours of community service! The class officers hosted 2 Coffeehouses, a Pizza Hut Fundraiser Night, a Valentine's Dance, Three PDR's, a Holiday Study Break Party, a Christmas Tree Decorating Event, and a Spring study party. Eighty One Freshmen made the Dean's List, 9 received a perfect 4.0, and 57 participated in the Association Process for Greek Life. The Class of 2011 began with a great start, something that will continue for the next three years!!

Making the leap from

under- to upperclassmen

Class of 2010

Class of 2009

Three years flew by and now the class of 2009 will shortly be seniors. Most jump with anticipation while others hold on to their last leg of their college career.

The 2007-2008 academic year has been very eventful and rewarding for the class of 2009. They have successfully completed numerous class events, community service projects, and fundraisers with not only Lycoming College, but the Williamsport area as well. They assisted in a freshman move in crew, held a change drive, sponsored a midterm study break event with Dunkin' Donuts, and worked with the executive board of student senate to integrate our class into the new OrgSync system. They have high hopes for next year as senior officers, and hope to set a record for senior participation so they can reward the school with a stellar class gift. They hope to make the 2009 academic year the best yet!

Lycoming's Fly Fishing Club

Lycoming's Fly Fishing Club (FLYCO) was established to honor and practice the art of fly fishing. This club is also involved in the community by teaching others the principles of fishing and volunteering for environmentally-based service projects in the Williamsport area. They participated in a stream clean-up at Rauchtown Run, a stream in Clinton County, PA. They also supported the Lycoming College Relay for Life by having a booth and demonstrating their fly fishing skills!

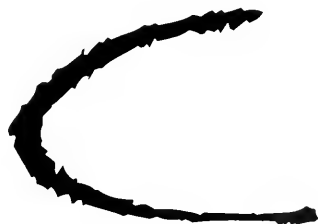

Japanese Culture Club was officially recognized by Student Senate this year during the fall semester. Despite being a new organization, JCC has been involved in many campus events such as the Hall Crawl during Homecoming week, Box-Top Fundraiser/community service with the Creative Arts Society, and attended the Cherry Blossoms Festival in Washington D.C.

MAD people

Each year the members of the Creative Arts Society attempt to encourage the many facets of creativity on campus. Whether they are providing flats to paint, role playing games to create, or winning Super Smash Bros. with the most skill, anyone on campus can find a talent to hone with this group! This past year they drew the largest attention of new members than they had in the last four years. They also searched for a new advisor, as their previous advisor, Roger Shipley, was planning on retiring. They were happy to announce N.J. Stanley as their new advisor in the spring semester.

The Lycoming College Shotokan Karate Club trains according to the principals of their founder Mr. Gichin Funakoshi, the "Father of Modern Karate". They practice the traditional Japanese art of empty hand self-defense. Although their training maybe physically intense they are still guided by Master Gichin Funakoshi's principal of "the ultimate goal of the art of karate-do is not victory or defeat, but in the perfection of character of its participants."

The Black Student Union was established to expand the Black awareness on campus and spread the knowledge of the array of different cultures that is seen day after day. The goal of this group is to extend the outreach to all students and faculty alike. This is an organization where students can go and discuss issues that are relevant to them as well as those around them. Community service is a major factor with the members; they get involved in numerous service activities such as Hand In Hand held during the fall semester and Relay For Life in the spring. Fun teambuilding events are held among the members to form a sturdy, healthy, and fun relationship among the members as well. BSU Nights held monthly keep their bond strong.

Circle K

This year Circle K was very busy sponsoring many charitable events around campus and the community. Throughout the year this organization sponsored a blood drive, Soldiers' Angels donation drive, spaghetti dinner, foster kid's Christmas party and Easter brunch, bell ringing for the Salvation army, and a car wash.

This organization is always looking for new and creative ways to change the world one student and service project at a time.

Above, The members of Circle K worked all day washing cars to raise money. It was hard work but it all paid off in the end.

Ashley Campbell and others cheer on the performer. The crowd looks really in to the performance.

Stephanie Ly grooves to the YMCA. The whole group performed this dance together at the party.

Best Buddies was in full swing this year. The mission of the organization is to enhance the lives of people with intellectual disabilities by providing opportunities for one-to-one friendships and integrated employment.

Lycoming senior and president of Best Buddies, Ashley Campbell, says, "My favorite part about Best Buddies is getting to hang out with the buddies. They're always ready to have a good time and put a smile on my face no matter how stressed out I am." Over the past four years

Campbell has had the same buddy. She has helped him grow and develop. She says, "When I first met my buddy, he was very shy and quiet, but as I got to know him he's really come out of his shell and is now one of the most outgoing of the buddies." Campbell's dedication and hard work devoted to this program will be missed next year.

The program continues to grow stronger and stronger every year. There is so much potential for the future years to come.

Amnesty

CaraSol Chochran and Father Barbosa

Amnesty International at Lycoming is a small chapter of Amnesty International, a non-partisan, non-profit organization dedicated to preserving human rights around the world. After falling dormant for the Spring 2007 semester, Amnesty International at Lycoming became decidedly active from the very beginning of the Fall 2007 semester by co-hosting human rights activist and environmentalist David Radcliff. Radcliff, the CEO of the New Community Project, had spoken at Lycoming twice before, and Amnesty was proud to have him back to make his presentation “The Heat is On! What do Global Warming and Darfur Have in Common?” CaraSol Cochran planned to visit Peru with her family in the fall, and suggested the club collect funds to help the Peruvian earthquake victims. Going door-to-door around campus, members raised $205, which was converted to over 600 Peruvian soles which Cochran was able to deliver personally to the victims.

International

With the help of David Radcliff, the club collected money for Project Nimule during the holiday season. Nimule is a small village in southern Sudan which Radcliff visits annually. The club raised $170 and Radcliff delivered the funds personally on a January trip there. Members also collected over 250 signatures for a petition urging President Bush and U.N. Secretary General Ban-ki Moon to send more troops into Sudan to stop the genocide being committed there. The club also had a letter-writing party, while there, members contacted world leaders in response to a variety of social injustices, such as sex trafficking, unlawful imprisonment of peaceful protestors, and child labor. In order to find out what human rights issues members of the campus community were interested in, McGair Valois created a campus wide survey, and found that students to be most interested in women's rights, children's rights, and local issues. Based on that, Joelle Jameson, director of the chapter's on campus film festival, chose films to show on campus that incorporated those issues. Students, faculty, and members of the community attended the films "Arms for the Poor," "A Duty to Protect," "The Torture Question," "The Day My God Died," "Behind the Labels," and "Born into Brothels." Each evening, club members provided information about the films and ways to take action. The club also circulated petitions at the film festival to shut down Guantanamo Bay and advocate the rights of child soldiers. Amnesty also participated in the Homecoming Hall Crawl in October, 2007, where their slow-brewed hot cider proved to be one of the most popular products sold.

SMART

Each Monday through Thursday, 18 Lycoming College Students travel to Stevens Elementary at Covenant Central Presbyterian Church. At the school, they tutor at-risk students in Spelling, Math, and Reading. After tutoring the students for a half hour, they do various activities such as going to the gym at the YWCA, taking music lessons at Uptown Music Collective, and cooking meals with the students. Occasionally they do other group activities such as going out for dinner, bowling, and putting on a talent show.

Natalie Palm bonds with a student from Stevens Elementary by playing a board game.

Shauna Clay works diligently to help a one of the students grasp a new concept.

Student Pennsylvania State Education Association offers assistance to all students pursuing an education certification. The organization is involved in community service, through involvement throughout the local community. This year's activities for S-PSEA included a Halloween Party co-hosted with Big Brothers Big Sisters. The party was held in Pennington Lounge for the children of Lycoming College professor's, faculty, and staff, as well as the children from HOPE. There were games, crafts, food, and other activities. Afterwards, the children had the opportunity to go trick or treating through the dorms. An Education Panel was held that invited Lycoming Education alumni back to campus to discuss what it's like in the real world of teaching and education. Afterwards, there was a meet and greet with members and alumni.

Warrior wrestlers take the mat

Lycoming College's wrestling team (6-2) defeated Gettysburg College by a team score of 25-16 on Tuesday at Lamade Gymnasium. The win was Lycoming's third in a row, all in the last four days. Junior Bryan Kopesky (Phillipsburg, N.J.) won by technical fall at 184 pounds, while sophomore Chris Dahlheimer (Felton, Pa.) and freshman Tom Barger (Clearfield, Pa.) scored major decisions at 165 and 141, respectively. Senior Troy Hansen (Westtown, N.Y.) moved up to heavyweight and lost a close 3-2 match to a much larger Bobby Christopher.

The Lady Warriors came off a great season in 2007 and were looking for redemption in the Middle Atlantic Conference, being ranked first in the pre-season poll.

After traveling to Clearwater Beach, Florida for spring break, Lycoming started the season off with a tough loss in double overtime to Ursinus. The team traveled to Geneva, New York to play in the Herson Draw Tournament hosted by William Smith College. The Lady Warriors lost to William Smith but defeated Colorado College, ranked in the nation at the time.

They went 5-3 in the conference and were ranked fourth going into the MAC tournament.

Seniors Kristina Peacock, Lauren Raby, Heather Suit, and Megan Wallenhorst on Senior Day.

Pink Out!

The women's lacrosse team hosted a "Pink Out" on April 12th against Widener University. The players wore pink jerseys to promote breast cancer awareness. Lycoming fans filled the stands on a beautiful, sunny day, wearing pink t-shirts which were distributed by the Lady Warriors for the fight against breast cancer. They sold the pink t-shirts and accepted donations to raise over $6,000 for the Climb for Hope, an organization which raises funds for finding a viable treatment for breast cancer.

Frank Girardi has been the head football coach for Lycoming College for 36 years. During this time, Coach Girardi has built a record career of 257-97-5 a winning percentage of .726. In 2005, he became only the 17th coach at any NCAA level to reach the 250-win plateau. Girardi is one of only two active Division III coaches to record 250 victories and he has won 13 NCAA Division III playoff games. After the 2007 season, Frank Girardi went into retirement and will sorely be missed by his staff, players, and indeed, the entire Lycoming Family. Congratulations Frank, you've earned it.

Coach Jerry Hammaker motivates the team before heading into the third, and last, day of the 2008 MAC Championship Swim Meet.

Male Roster

Captains:

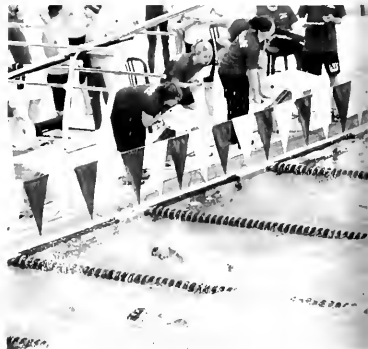

Brian Fausel, Brandon Good

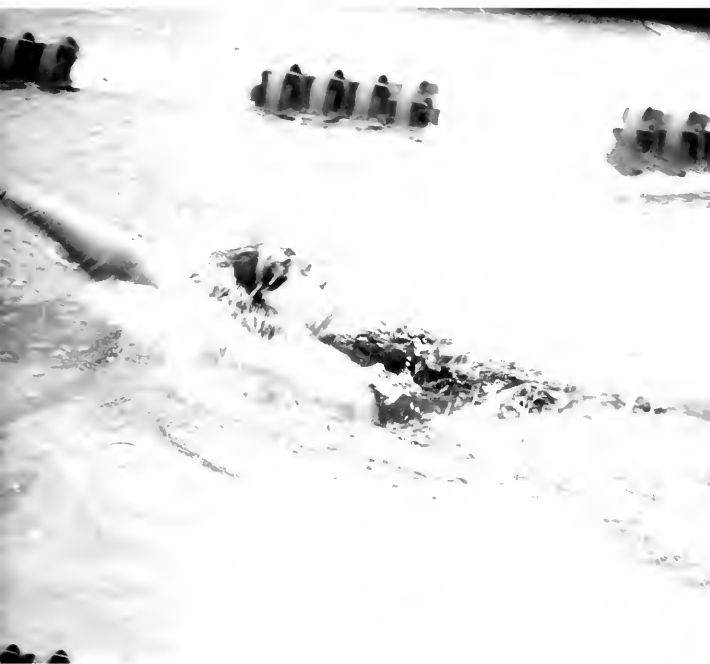

The Team:

Ryan Adamson, Tim Carroll, Joseph Kuder, Chad Lemmons, Sage Morret, Trevor Silbernagel, David Zablocki, John Dougherty, Sean Houser, Nicholas John, Sean Berrier

Lycoming Swim Team members line up shoulder to shoulder in their parkas during the national anthem before the last home meet of the 2007-2008 season versus Lebanon Valley.

Freshman Ryan Adamson races towards the finish in the quick 50 Freestyle race during the 2008 MAC Championship Meet.

The Lycoming Swim Team had a great 2007-2008 Swim Season, with both teams placing 3rd at the 2008 MAC Championship Meet. This year also marked the 100th win for Coach Jerry Hammaker. "One hundred total wins is a great threshold for any coach to reach, especially for a sport with so few meets each season. I am so thankful for all of the outstanding student-athletes and assistant coaches that I have been blessed to work with since arriving at Lycoming" stated Coach Jerry Hammaker.

Female Roster

Captains:

Milvana Ban, Holly Miller,
Kirsten Snyder

The Team:

Bethany Drew, Margaret Emery, Stacy Flick, Brittany Gray, Lauren Johnson, Melody Johnson, Danielle Mulvey, Michelle Pastrano, Lizzy Stefani, Kate Williamson, Tess Duffin, Caroline LeHota, Amy Bentz, Jessica Bugno, Stephanie Conrad, Jessie Gallagher, Nicole Zoller, Amanda Guminski, Maria Millen

Top: Junior Nicole Zoller competes in the 200 Backstroke at the 2008 MAC Championship meet.

Sophomore John Green prepares for his 200 freestyle race, a race that would break the Lycoming Men's 200 Freestyle Record with a time of 1:47.65.

Swim Team members traveled to Mexico to train during Christmas break. For this reason, their MAC t-shirts read "No importa como se dice, somos los mejores" which translates to, no matter how it's said, we are the best.

The AAEB meets twice annually and serves as a liaison between the College and the alumni at large. The Alumni Association is a non-dues-paying organization; all alumni of the College are considered members. Homecoming is our main annual event, but Alumni Relations also holds approximately 20 regional events around the country each year for alumni to socialize, network, and hear news about Lycoming.

Janna,
Each day, each thought, is yours to choose. You know your path and you have your answers. You are your own miracle. We're always here for you!

Love, Mom, Dad, Kristin

Jay!

We are so proud of you! Good luck in your future plans, we wish you happiness and success. Remember when one door closes a new one opens!

Love
Mom & Dad

Matt,

You have become a beautiful, wise and strong young man in what seems like a short period of time. We know that you will be successful whatever path you follow. Know that we are very proud of you and share in your joy of accomplishment. Be proud of yourself and never underestimate all of the wonderful possibilities you possess.....and always remember we admire you and love you very much.

With all our love and pride,
Dad, Mom, Chris, and Aunt Cookie

From the first time I saw and held you Matt, my life as I knew it changed forever. Words would never be able to explain how much we were blessed to receive you. A gift you were, a blessing like no other. But now our gift has grown into an intelligent, bright, sensitive young man ready to share of himself with the rest of the world. But I want you to remember this my son, no matter what you do, where you end up, you'll always be loved! I'm so proud to call you my son, and to say I love you and thank you for giving my life meaning. Good luck, Godspeed, and May The Force Be With You! Love, Dad

My Dear Matt,
 May you be strong enough to keep your hopes and dreams alive.
 May you always be gentle enough to understand,
 and know that you hold tomorrow in your hands.
 And may you always remember, each step of the way...you are loved so much...and I am so proud of you!!
 All my love,
 Mom

Matt,

Words cannot express how happy and privileged I have felt watching you grown into an intelligent young man. You have accomplished so much in these past four years and I have no doubt you will achieve all you set out to do in the future. I wish you all the best, Matt. You will go far!! Aunt Cookie

Matt...It is shocking how someone as small as Yoda and who talked like him could turn out to be as tall as Chewbacca and talk like a dictionary. Good luck, even though I do not think you will need it. Just remember to use Geico since it's easy enough that even you can use it. Love ya bro! Chris

Adam,

It seems like only yesterday we were taking you for your first day of preschool.

It doesn't seem possible another chapter is over.

We wish you much success and happiness in this next one.

With all our love,

Mom, Dad & Eric

Oh yeah, Rex, Ellie Mae & Studley too!

Jamie-

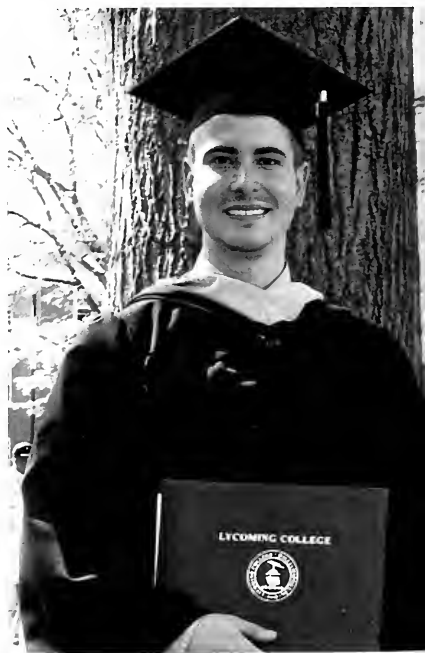

You have done such an outstanding job and have made both of us extremely proud. Your speech at graduation was AMAZING! You and Lyco have been a great match. You've only just begun. Keep up the INTENSITY.

Love you- Mom and Dad

Jordan,

Congratulations! We all share in the joy of ALL of your accomplishments, with much pride! HAPPY GRADUATION!

Love,
Your Family
XOXOXO

Stephanie:

We've watched you grow through many accomplishments and with this milestone a true member of society, use it to make the world a better place. We are very proud of our Sam.

Love,
Mum, Dad, Frank and Nick

Rachel,

You are our sunshine.
Happy Graduation!
We love you, Mom and Eli

Good Luck Class of 2008

Life's new beginnings happen for very special reasons. When it's time to move on, remember that it really is okay.

Because when a new beginning unfolds in the story of your life, you go such a long way toward making the dreams of your tomorrows come true.

-Doublas Pagels

Thank you for you patronage and support throughout the years.

Congratulations from the Streeter Campus Store

~ * ~ Two Thousand Eight Arrow ~ * ~

There were 300 copies of the 2008 Arrow Yearbook printed and sold at $60 each. Cover accessories were sold for an additional cost. The theme, "All Mixed Up," represented the many changes that the school and its students had in store that year. The editor of the 2008 Arrow Yearbook was Sarah Zellars. Assisting her were Donna Weaver, Larry Mannolini, Dean Daniel Miller, and Todd Preston, the 2008 Arrow Yearbook Advisor. Throughout the year, the editor was assisted by Maranda Ward, Amanda Striley, Dana Steinbruch, Alexandra DeWitt, Jasmine Johnson, Patricia Barker, Joseph Thomas, David Wilson, Stacey Komsa, Jamie Buriak, Amy Bentz, Jamie Drucker, and Rebecca Borden. Herff Jones Yearbooks in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, published the yearbook. The yearbook representative and general assistant to Lycoming College was Dave Brown. The 192 pages, 14 in color, were printed on 80 pound Bordeaux paper using AHJ Jessica Regular font for the main copy, AHJ Gillies Gothic for the senior names and AHJ Garamond for the advertisements. DaVor Photographic Inc., Bensalem, Pennsylvania, took the senior portraits. Student photographers, student organizations, faculty and administrative staff submitted other photographs and copy. The yearbook staff created the 2008 yearbook using Adobe InDesign Creative Suite 3. "Friends and Family" advertisements were solicited to offset the cost of the yearbook. Lycoming College and the Student Senate financially support the production of the yearbook. A special thank you goes to Kevin and Wendy Zellars for their support, to Donna Weaver for her outstanding assistance, to Larry Mannolini and Daniel Miller for their endorsement, to Dave Brown for his guidance, and to Todd Preston for his encouragement and support.
